

Who Invents IT? Women's Participation in Information Technology Patenting (2012 Update)

The original 2007 report, Who Invents IT? An Analysis of Women's Participation in Information Technology Patenting, examined the rates at which women have been patenting in information technology (IT), how these rates have evolved between 1980-2005, and how these rates differ across IT industry sub-categories and across specific organizations. This edition updates the previous report, exploring these trends from 2006-2010.

Download File

Download File Button Text Download